REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Members
IASG Alternatives, LLC

Opinion on the Financial Statements

I have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of IASG Alternatives, LLC, as of December 31, 2018, the related statements of income, changes in members' equity, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes and schedules (collectively referred to as the financial statements). In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material aspects, the financial position of IASG Alternatives, LLC as of December 31, 2018 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

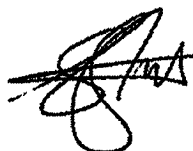

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of IASG Alternatives, LLC's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on IASG Alternatives, LLC's financial statements based on our audit. I am a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and am required to be independent with respect to IASG Alternatives, LLC in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and the regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

I conducted my audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. My audit included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. My audit also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

Supplemental Information

The Schedule of Computation of Net Capital Requirements Under SEC Rule 15c3-1 has been subjected to audit procedures performed in conjunction with the audit of IASG Alternatives, LLC's financial statements. The supplemental information is the responsibility of IASG Alternatives, LLC's management. My audit procedures included determining whether the supplemental information reconciles to the financial statements or the underlying accounting and other records, as applicable, and performing procedures to test the completeness and accuracy of the information presented in the supplemental information. In forming my opinion on the supplemental information, I evaluated whether the supplemental information, including its form and content, is presented in conformity with 17 C.F.R. §240.17a-5. In my opinion, the Schedule of Computation of Net Capital Requirement Under SEC Rule 15c3-1 is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2018

1. Organization and Business

IASG Alternatives, LLC (the "Company"), an Illinois limited liability company, was formed on February 27, 2015 and commenced operations as broker-dealer on November 12, 2015. The Company is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority. The Company conducts business primarily in dealings with the private placement of securities. The broker-dealer operates primarily out of Illinois with another registered representative working out of Washington state. The Company's primary source of revenue is introducing high net worth individuals to private placements focused in liquid alternatives.

2. METHOD OF ACCOUNTING

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

Fees Receivables

Fees receivables are stated at their estimated realizable value. Allowance is estimated by the Company based on an analysis of specific customers, taking into consideration the age of past due accounts and an assessment of the customer's ability to pay. In the opinion of the Company, all receivables are collectible in full, therefore, there is no allowance for doubtful accounts at December 31, 2018.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue related to private placement offerings is recognized in the period the revenue is earned.

In May 2014, FASB issued ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers: Topic 606 to supersede nearly all existing revenue recognition guidance under GAAP. The firm has performed an assessment of its revenue contracts and has not identified any material changes to the timing or amount of its recognition under ASU 2014-09. The principles of revenue recognition from ASU 2014-09 are largely consistent with current practices of the Firm.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2016 the FASB issued new guidance regarding the accounting for leases. The FASB issued the update to increase transparency and comparability among organizations by recognizing lease assets and lease liabilities on the balance sheet and disclosing key information about leasing arrangements. The effective date for non-public companies is for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019. The Company is currently assessing the impact of adopting this guidance on its financial statements.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2018

2. METHOD OF ACCOUNTING, continued

Income Taxes

No provision for Federal income taxes has been made in the accompanying financial statements, as each member is responsible for reporting income or loss based on his or her pro rata share of the profits or losses of the Company.

In accordance with GAAP, the Company is required to determine whether its tax positions are more likely than not to be sustained upon examination by the applicable taxing authority, based on the technical merits of the position. Generally, the Company is subject to income tax examinations by major taxing authorities during the three year period prior to the period covered by these financial statements. The tax benefit recognized is measured as the largest amount of benefit that has a greater than fifty percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement with the relevant taxing authorities. Based on its analysis, the Company has determined that it has not incurred any liability for unrecognized tax benefits as of December 31, 2018.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and the accompanying notes. Management determined that the estimates utilized in preparing its financial statements are reasonable and prudent. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

3. Related Party Transaction

The Company had a sublease agreement with Institutional Advisory Group, Inc. (IAGI), which is related through common ownership. The agreement expired on August 31, 2017 and the Company began renting from IAGI on a month-to-month basis. For the year ended December 31, 2018, rent expense was $3,579. There were no amounts due to IAGI as of December 31, 2018, and there are no future obligations related to this agreement.

4. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15(c)3-1) and has elected to use the basic method as permitted by this rule. Under this rule, the Company is required to maintain "net capital" equal to the greater of $5,000 or 6 and 2/3% of "aggregate indebtedness", as defined.

At December 31, 2018, the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of $19,616 and $5,000, respectively.
